NEW SCHEDULE TOMORROW.

Will Make Travel More Convenient in And
Out of Daytona.—Preparing Train
Crews For Winter's Business.

The officials of the Florida East Coast Railway are busy now getting everything in shape for the enormous tourist season which will set in immediately after the holidays. Extra train crews are being drilled and made familiar with the road; nearly all of the rolling stock has been in the repair shops, overhauled and turned out again practically new;
orders for new cars are being filled—in fact one consignment will consist of ten regular coaches, two sleepers and six express cars. This season the Florida East Coast Railway will be better equipped than ever to handle the enormous travel with safety and dispatch and ranks among the best of the country for equipment and efficiency.

The new schedule on the Florida East Coast Railway will go into effect tomorrow, and following is the time of the arrival of the various trains in Daytona.

No. 28, the Palm Beach and Miami Express, will leave Miami daily at 5:10 p. m., arriving in Daytona at 3:37
a. m., at Jacksonville 7:40 o'clock in the morning.

No. 29, carrying United States and Havana mail, leaves Jacksonville daily at 9:20 a. m., arriving in Daytona at 1:05 in the afternoon, at Miami 10:55
o'clock in the evening.

No. 78 leaves Miami at 6 a. m., arriving in Daytona at 3:52 o'clock in the afternoon, and in Jacksonville at 7:30 p. m.

No. 35, coaches, buffet, sleeper.
Makes all stops. Will leave Jacksonville daily at 4:30 p. m., arriving in Daytona at 8:46 p. m., at Miami 7:30 the following morning.

Today is the shortest day in the year.

Mayor Smith has instructed Marshal Zuber to be on hand at the Opera House this evening and see that order is maintained.

HEAVY INCREASE IN THE MAIL.

Due to the Holidays.—Be Sure To Put the Correct Number of Stamps on Your Packages.

At the local postoffice an enormous amount of mail is being handled this week.

The great increase usual during the Christmas season, adds very much to the duties of the postoffice employees, and it is a matter of wonder that, with the large percentage of poorly addressed letters and packages, more mail matter is not lost.

Those who are about to send Christmas presents to their friends should heed the suggestions of the Postmaster General's office. That official cautions every one to be careful about putting the correct amount of stamps on the matter to be mailed. And there are good reasons for this. The Government should get its due extra work should not be added to the burden of the postoffice clerks, and there should not be any unnecessary delay in the transmission of the presents, due to insufficient postage.

Standing at the wicket yesterday were two people about to mail a package, on which they had placed a certain amount of stamps. One suggested, before throwing the package into the receiving box, that it be weighed, and the amount of postage verified. They had guessed four cents short.

This may appear a little thing, but, as stated above, it means a great deal.

Therefore, when you send your Christmas tokens by mail, fold your love in the gift, and be sure to put on the right amount of stamps.

Several Pipes Broken.

Mayor Smith, in conversation with a representative of The Daily News this morning, reported the fact that the sewer pipes on Beach Street, in the vicinity of Third Avenue, were in poor condition, and that six of them had been broken. He says that some boys take delight in throwing rocks at the sewer pipes and hearing them break.
Another menace to the pipes is the carelessness of boat owners in mooring their crafts.

For several weeks there has been much discussion about The High School Sentinel; what is it, when will it be out? The answer to the first question can be found by buying a copy at Clark's.

WELL PLEASED WITH PROGRESS.

Officials of the F. E. C. Ry. Visit Scene of the Extension.—Mr. Flagler Enjoys the Outing.

H. M. Flagler, J. R. Parrott, R. T.
Goff, J. T. Beckwith, officials of the Florida East Coast Railway, and a party of friends, who left here several days ago on the steamer St. Lucie, says the Miami Metropolis, for a trip over the extension operations as far as Key West, returned to the city this morning and left aboard their special train at 8 o'clock for the north. Mr. Flagler was particularly well pleased with the progress of the extension work and discussed it freely. He also enjoyed the outing very much and with the other members of the party said that the trip had been both instructive and beneficial to them.

ORMOND HAS DISTURBANCE.

Minor Cyclone Strikes the Town.—
Two or Three Colored Houses
Torn Away.

Reports received in the city today from Ormond are to the effect that a minor cyclone struck that town about six o'clock last evening and did considerable damage.

The path of the cyclone was through the colored portion of the town and two or three small dwellings were torn down by the violence of the wind.

Fortunately, no one was seriously injured.

Christmas Day at the Postoffice.

On Christmas Day, and the Sunday preceding Christmas, the postoffice window will be open from 8 to 9 a. m. in addition to the usual Sunday and holiday hours. This is for the purpose of delivering packages and other matter received on the night and morning mails. Remember, 8 to 9 a. m., sharp.

"A daily paper is a good advertisement for a town, and it is an indication that the place is lively, the business people hustlers and not slow motion.
I am glad to see the paper so healthy looking. Everyone should do what they can to support it," said a well known Beach street merchant last night, and a large advertiser in the Daily News, in speaking with a representative of this paper.

MOTORBOAT RACE FOR XMAS.

Will Be Held Under Auspices of the Halifax River Yacht Club.—The New Members Elected.

At a meeting of the Halifax River
Yacht Club held last evening it was decided to hold a motorboat race on Christmas Day.

Messrs. Stillman, Adler and W. A.
Gove were appointed as a special committee to make arrangements for the race, and to work in connection with the regular regatta committee.

It has not been decided, as yet, whether to confine the entries to members of the club, or to make it an open contest.

H. B. Yarbrough, manager of Anthony's, and Lewis A. Stout, of New York City, were elected as members of the club.

Kicked By a Horse.

Gus Lindberg, a blacksmith in the employ of J. Pratt and Son, was kicked by an unruly horse yesterday, and suffered considerable pain for a time. He is able to be about today on an improvised leg.

Death of C. E. Duvel.

Notice has been received in this city of the death of Clarence Edward Duvel, which occurred at Hamburg, N. J., on December 8. Mr. Duvel spent a winter here two or three years ago, with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Amos H.
Baker. He was twenty-two years of age, and a young man of excellent traits.

New boats are coming in every day,
and soon the river will be fairly alive with craft.

Two monkey organ-grinders have struck town, and today they are amusing the little ones.

Many of the stores in Daytona have their windows handsomely and artistically decorated for the holidays.

Two bicycles ridden by a white man and a negro boy took a header yesterday afternoon at the corner opposite the City Hall. The man was the most unfortunate, as he slipped in the mud for a distance of several feet, and while falling he used several strong adjectives, afterwards telling the little negro he was at fault in the matter.

A Poem for Today

THE PILGRIMS OF THE NIGHT

By Frederick William Faber

ARK, hark, my soul! Angelic songs are swelling O'er earth's green fields and ocean's wave-beat shore.
How sweet the truth those blessed strains are telling
Of that new life when sin shall be no more!

REFRAIN.

Angels of Jesus, angels of light,
Singing to welcome the pilgrims of the night.

Onward we go, for still we hear them singing.
Come, weary souls, for Jesus bids you come,
And through the dark its echoes sweetly ringing,
The music of the gospel leads us home.

Far, far away, like bells at evening pealing,
The voice of Jesus sounds o'er land and sea,
And laden souls by thousands weekly stealing,
Kind Shepherd, turn their weary steps to thee.

Rest comes at length, though life be long and dreary;
The day must dawn and darkness night be past;
Faith's journey ends in welcome to the weary,
And heaven, the true heart's home, will come at last.

Angels, sing on, your faithful watches keeping;
Sing us sweet fragments of the songs above,
Till morning's joy shall end the night of weeping,
And life's long shadows break in cloudless love.

A Poem for Today

"A BIRD IN MY BOWER"

By Francis Howard Williams

BIRD in my bower
Sat calling, a-calling;
A bird answered low from the garden afar.
His note came with power,
While falling, a-falling,
Her note quivered faint as the light of a star
"I am Life! I am Life!"
From the bower a-ringing.
Thrilled forth a mad melody, soaring above,
"I am Love! I am Love!"
From the garden a-singing,
Came soft as a dream, and the echoes sang "Love."
They joined, and together
Fast flying, a-flying,
Were lost to my gaze in the arch of the sky.
The wind through the heather
Is sighing, a-sighing,
Ah, how should it ever do other than sigh?
Where art thou, where art thou,
Life, flying, a-flying?
Where art thou, O Love, sweetest child of the dawn?
The song in the meadow
Is dying, a-dying;
My heart groweth heavy, and whisperech—"Gone."

Gloves, Neckwear, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs,

all useful, and will be appreciated by your friends Christmas.

An Anthology of Love.
A poet has said that "as for Browning's love for his wife nothing more tender and chivalrous has ever been told of ideal lovers in an ideal romance. It is so beautiful a story that one often prefers it to the sweetest or loftiest poem that came from the lips of either." True, yet the lives of the two as poets make the story what it is. Their lives, indeed, were poems, as Milton said poets' lives should be, and their poetry was their life, as Mrs. Browning said should also be true of poets. The world could spare neither the lives nor the poems, and especially would it be poor without those poems in which each sang of the other. Take these together, was there ever, in all the treasury of the world's literature, so angelic an anthology of love anthems as the two radiant and immortal lovers themselves?—Richard Watson Gilder in Century.

Boiled Alive.
In English statutes of the sixteenth century the punishment set down for the crime of murdering by poison was boiling alive, and a girl was actually executed in that ghastly fashion. In 1538 Father Stone of Canterbury suffered the same death. A curious account is in existence which gives the amount paid "for two men who set the kettle and parboiled him" and "to the women that scoured the kettle." The sentence was not always carried out with so much ferocity, for culprits were sometimes hanged before being boiled. In one case it is recorded that a man was first hanged, then boiled and then quartered.

Wordsworth.
Wordsworth considered "The Excursion" his best and next to it "The White Doe of Rylstone." Wordsworth said that when he first thought seriously of being a poet he looked into himself to see how he was fitted for the work and seemed to find there "that first great gift, the vital soul," a statement which shows that, whatever other people may think of him, he had a passably fair opinion of himself. He frequently expressed his opinion of his own poetry and once said that he had widened the domain of the poet over a whole field deemed irreclaimable.

The Invincible Armada.
The invincible armada was a famous naval expedition sent by Philip II. of Spain against England in 1588. It consisted of 130 vessels, 2,430 great guns, 4,575 quintals of powder, nearly 20,000 soldiers, above 8,000 sailors and more than 2,000 volunteers. It arrived in the English channel on July 19 and was defeated the next day by Admiral Howard, who was seconded by Drake, Hawkins and Froisher. Eight fire-ships having been sent into the Spanish fleet, they bore off in great disorder. Profiting by the panic the English fell upon them and captured or destroyed a number of their ships, and Admiral Howard maintained a running fight from July 21 to July 27, with such effect that the Spanish commander, despairing of success, resolved to return home, and as escape through the English channel was prevented by contrary winds he undertook to sail around the Orkneys, but the vessels which still remained to him were dispersed by storms or shipwrecked among the rocks and shallows on different parts of the Scottish and Irish coast, and upward of 5,000 men were drowned, killed or taken prisoners. Of the whole armada fifty-three ships only returned to Spain and these in a wretched condition. The English lost but one ship.

The Maroons.
The Maroons were the descendants of African slaves, brought to Jamaica by the Spaniards. During the conquest of Jamaica by the English the Maroons, deserted by their masters, fled to the mountain fastnesses, where they lived a fierce, wild life. Increasing daily in number by the many deserting slaves, the Maroons soon became formidable to their white neighbors, whom they plundered and killed. In 1738 an agreement was made which secured them an independence, which they maintained for 140 years, but the English finally determined to exterminate them and for this purpose pursued them barbarously with bloodhounds. Hemmed in on every side and hunted down, they were compelled to submit, and only one escaped, who was transported to the bleak shores of Nova Scotia, where they perished miserably.

The Sunday Stone.
The "Sunday stone" of the Oxford museum was taken from a colliery drain and is a perfect calendar of Sundays and holidays. It is composed of carbonate of lime. When miners were at work, the water running through the drain left a black deposit colored by coal dust. At other times the water ran clear, leaving the stone deposit white. In course of time these black and white layers formed a stone of considerable thickness, which constitutes a very complete calendar. Each day of work has its record a black streak, followed by a white streak, which marks the hours of rest at night. Wider white streaks mark the Sundays and whole holidays, and thus it has taken its name as the "Sunday stone."—London Mail.

Rossini's Memory.
Rossini's memory was lacking in retentiveness, especially in respect to the names of persons who had been introduced to him. This forgetfulness was frequently a cause of amusement whenever Rossini was among company. One day he met Bishop, the English composer. Rossini knew the face well enough and at once greeted him. "Ah, my dear Mr. Bishop," but the name escaped his memory, and to convince him that he had not forgotten him Rossini began whistling Bishop's glee, "When the Wind Blows," a compliment which "the English Mozart," as Bishop had been dubbed, recognized quite as readily as if his ecclesiastical surname had been mentioned.

Horses in Battle.
Arabian horses show remarkable courage in battle. It is said that when a horse of his breed finds himself wounded and knows instinctively that he will not be able to carry his rider much longer he quickly retires, bearing his master to a place of safety while he has yet sufficient strength. But if, on the other hand, the rider is wounded and falls to the ground, the faithful animal rears beside him, unmindful of danger, neighing until assistance is brought.

The Recession of Niagara Falls.
 Horseshoe fall has receded more than 200 feet within the memory of living men and is now travelling toward Lake Erie at the rate of fully 500 feet a century. At present the crest of this fall, as its name implies, has the general outline of a horseshoe, and its length is about 3,000 feet, but if the present rate of erosion continues the length of the crest may reach 8,000 feet or more within the next half millennium. Now the Canadian end of the Horseshoe fall is a few rods upstream from the spot whence Table rock has fallen into the gorge, but the indications are that this end of the cataract will gradually retire toward the Bufferin islands, leaving a bare cliff as the apex cuts its way upstream.—Alton

Throwing the Dart in Cork Harbor.
 The ancient civic ceremony known as throwing the dart is performed every third year, and it survives only in Cork. Proceeding to the mouth of the harbor, the lord mayor casts a silver dart into the sea and as he does so proclaims his jurisdiction as admiral of the port over the harbor and all its inlets and creeks. The naval authorities look on with unconcern, the ceremony having long ago lost its ancient significance. Throwing the dart is now merely the occasion for a civic outing.—London Mail.

 1,000 Reporters!

The Daily News wants 1,000 reporters. No, this is not a joke. We really want them, and we won't be happy until we get them.

In other words, The Daily News wants every person, male and female, 18 years of age and over, in Daytona and its environs, to get on the staff of the paper. The Daily News wants every scrap of local news that is worth printing to appear in its columns. The best way to get it is to ask the people who know about the news to send it to the paper.

So if you know of anything that has happened, or is about to happen, tell the City Editor about it or write to him.

Let every man and woman, youth and maid in and around Daytona become a reporter The Daily News.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. The river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all ten feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breeze from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those seeking homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach
lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct contact with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebbside, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the gray-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the invincible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying. Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 900 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

Laughter and Worldly Success.
"Speaking of laughter, I have often wondered if the laughing man and the laughing woman really get along better in the world than the man and woman who do not laugh, or if they laugh at all merely grin at some amusing thing," said the observant man. "I do not know, I am sure. Of course you will find that men and women of both types probably in your own acquaintance have been able to get along fairly well in the world. Laughter is no doubt good capital in a great many instances. It is equally true that the grim face, the sour look, I may say, has often proved a valuable asset. The which would seem to indicate that there is a time to laugh and a time not to laugh."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Sweet Telling.
Aunt Hannah—Have you told any one of your engagement to Mr. Sweet? Edith—No; I haven't told a soul except Bessie Miller, who thought I was going to ask her.

Charles W. Jones, of Ponce de Leon, spent yesterday in Daytona.

J. A. Barum, of Jacksonville, was a business visitor to the city yesterday.

J. T. Percival, of Jacksonville, representing the Cable Piano Company, is in the city on business.

E. E. Grimes, of Cocoa, east coast representative for the C. B. Van Dusen Company, of Jacksonville, came up from the south this morning.

Mrs. M. E. Cowie has returned to the city from a visit to her pen pal in Gulf Hammock. She brought back a number of specimens, and they are certainly fine looking.

Mrs. Ellen Call Long died at Tallahassee, Sunday, in the eightieth year of her age, of paralysis. She was a daughter of former Governor Richard Keith Call and was the first white child born in Tallahassee. Mrs. Long was a woman of culture and had for long years been prominent in the social and intellectual life of the State. She was personally acquainted with every governor of Florida from Jackson to Broward.
